कार्यालय आदेश

महोदय,

विषय: Amendment to Clauses-10.16.1, 10.16.2 and 10.16.6 of CIL's Purchase Manual 2020

The Clauses-10.16.1, 10.16.2 and 10.16.6 of CIL's Purchase Manual 2020 are hereby amended to read as follows in place of the existing entries:

Clause- 10.16.1 Due care and diligence should be exercised while preparing the NIT, so that as far as possible, subsequently, there is no requirement for the issue of a corrigendum. However, sometimes, situations may arise necessitating modification of the tender enquiry already issued. Also, after receiving the documents, a tenderer may point out some genuine mistakes necessitating amendment in the tender documents. It is desirable to first check and ascertain whether the proposed amendment to the NIT is in the nature of minor change (in the specification and tender terms and conditions) or of a nature to substantially change the requirements. Changes that are of a nature to substantially change the specifications or the tender terms and conditions, should be avoided and a fresh tender floated by discharging the earlier tender. However, in case of any change (minor or substantial) arising out of Pre-Bid Conference, the same may be issued in the form of a corrigendum / amendment without issuing fresh tender.

Clause- 10.16.2 It should be satisfied that there is likely to be no compromise either on transparency or providing a level playing field to the bidders in case corrigendum / amendment is allowed to be issued.

Clause- 10.16.6 It should be ensured that the bidders get sufficient time to submit their offer after issue of the corrigendum. It should be ensured that a minimum 15 days' time is available after issue of corrigendum depending upon the type and nature of amendment contained in the corrigendum. If need be, extension of time should be considered so as to ensure that bidders have sufficient time for submission of bid or revision of submitted bids.

This is being issued with the approval of Chairman, CIL.
